

WASC Institutional Learning Outcomes for UCSC as defined by the Committee on Educational Policy.

By graduation, UCSC undergraduate students will have developed

1. mastery in a program of study (or major)
2. clear writing and effective communication in a program of study (or major)
3. skills for textual analysis and interpretation
4. capacity for formal reasoning and problem-solving
5. understanding of scientific inquiry and empirical methods
6. statistical reasoning abilities and familiarity with the uses (and misuses) of quantitative information
7. appreciation for the arts as ways to create and communicate meaning
8. awareness of ethnicity and race in socio-cultural and historical contexts
9. knowledge of cultures and societies outside the United States
10. perspectives on the environment, society and technology, or human behavior

Approved February 27, 2013.